-- The MAILING DATE of this communication appears on the cover sheet with the correspondence address --
Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) OR THIRTY (30) DAYS, WHICHEVER IS LONGER, FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

DETAILED ACTION

1. Applicant's response filed on 09/22/2006 has been fully considered. The 35 USC 103 rejection has been withdrawn in view of Applicant's comments.
2. Claim 6 is canceled and claims 1-5 and 7-22 are pending.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

4. Claims 1-5 and 7-22 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Kronzer (US 6,916,751 B1).
5. The applied reference has a common assignee/inventor with the instant application. Based upon the earlier effective U.S. filing date of the reference, it constitutes prior art under 35 U.S.C. 102(e). This rejection under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) might be overcome either by a showing under 37 CFR 1.132 that any invention disclosed but not claimed in the reference was derived from the inventor of this application and is thus not the invention "by another," or by an appropriate showing under 37 CFR 1.131:

Art Unit: 1774

6. Kronzer discloses a heat transfer material comprises a base layer, a release layer and a second meltable layer in the order thereof (Fig. 2 and col. 3, line 44). The second meltable layer is equivalent to the claimed image receptive transfer film. The base layer is selected from cellulosic nonwoven webs and polymeric films; desirably the base layer comprises latex saturated papers (col. 8, lines 39-49). The release layer comprises a cross-linked polymer having essentially no tack at transfer temperature of 177 degree C. The polymer of the release layer is selected from silicone-containing polymers, acrylic polymers and poly (vinyl acetate). The release layer further comprises crosslinking agent and release modifying additive of SYL-OFF 7210. The release layer also comprises a non-meltable particulate material such as Celite 263 in amount of 15%, wherein in this example the binder is in an amount of 50%. The release layer is described clearly in col. 5, lines 1-46 and col. 14, lines 22-47. The second meltable layer is printable and comprises particulate thermoplastic materials and a film forming binder (col. 6, lines 3 and 36). The heat transfer material may be used in cold peelable transfer processes (col. 11, lines 18-31).

Response to Arguments

7. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-5 and 7-22 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.
